Civil Action No: 2000-025

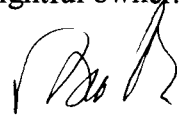

Re: RULE 9 ORDER BY THE HIGH
COURT TO THE TRADITION
RIGHTS COURT FOR A
SUPPLEMENTAL OPINION IN ANSWER

To: Hon. Chief Justice Carl B. Ingram, High Court
Dennis Reeder, counsel for Plaintiff Lucky Juda
Chief Public Defender, Russell Kun, counsel for Defendant Hoseia Joseiha

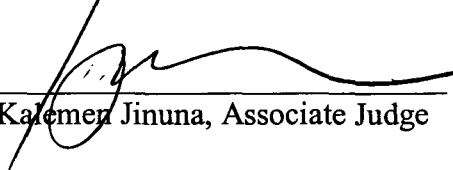

To accommodate the Rule 9 order, the Traditional Rights Court officially reconfirm its previous opinion that Plaintiff Lucky Juda, based on all testimonies and evidence presented, is the proper person to hold the senior dri jermal title/rights on Monunnar Wato on Bikini Atoll.

The Traditional Rights Court did not rule on who is the rightful dri jermal or senior dri jermal on the "southern tip of Kili Island". Politically, Kili Island is not associated with Bikini Atoll in receiving money from the U.S Government. Kili Island, as of today is still a public land. Therefore, the people live and enjoy the land, but they are not the owner.

Then, how can the parties in this caption matter claim that the "southern tip of Kili Island is theirs? Not one of them is the rightful owner.
