Industrial Relations Act (Chapter 174)REFERENCE OF MATTER TO THE MINIMUM WAGES BOARD AND APPOINTMENT OF MEMBERS
METHOD OF WAGE ADJUSTMENT TO ALL MINIMUM WAGES AND OTHER RELATED MATTERS

I, Kingsford Dibela, G.C.M.G., K.St.J., Governor-General, by virtue of the powers conferred by Sections 10 and 14 of the Industrial Relations Act (Chapter 174) and all other powers me enabling, hereby—

- (a) appoint Henry Moses, Kapai Aria, Margaret Loko, Ephraim Makis, Tau Nana and Richard Dunbar-Reid to be members of the Minimum Wages Board for the purposes set out in paragraph (b); and
- (b) refer to the Minimum Wages Board for determination the matters specified in the Schedule.

SCHEDULE

TAKING into account current economic conditions and the future prospects for economic growth, and the growing unemployment problem particularly among the youth; and

BEARING in mind future budgetary implications on the Nation's primary objectives of economic growth and employment creation, the Government's stated intention to use the results of the 1985/86 Minimum Wages Board Determination as the basis for its subsequent Agreement with the Public Employees Association, and the impact the Board's Determination will have upon the Government's budget and hence upon its ability to achieve its development objectives under the Medium Term Development Strategy;

AND taking into account the need for orderly industrial relations and the desirability of attracting investment for development and expanding the labour markets.

The Board is requested to address itself to, and determine the method of adjustment, commencement date, and timing of such adjustments to all or some minimum wages, and in particular:

1. The appropriateness or otherwise of the present method, formula and conditions for wage adjustment as set out in the Minimum Wages Board Determination No. 1 of 1983.
2. To review and determine criteria for classifying Urban Level One and Urban Level Two Centres, so that the centres which are now considered as having urban status for the purposes of the Minimum Wages Board Determination can be reclassified on a consistent and logical basis.
3. The prospect of exempting certain classes of labour from the Minimum Wages Board Determination, with the aim to promote employment in occupational groups which are amenable to employing a greater number of workers with a low level of skills.
4. Noting that many employers cite low productivity relative to basic pay as a major constraint to expanding employment, the Board is asked to consider and make recommendations on the possible extension of productivity-based wages (e.g. piece rates) in the urban sector.
5. Determine a youth wage proposal in the light of the recommendations of the Board of Inquiry into Youth Employment and Remuneration.

Dated this 15th day of October, 1985.

REPEAL AND REPLACEMENT OF SECTION 139.

Section 139 of the Principal Law is repealed and is replaced by the following:—

139. METHOD OF MARKING BALLOT-PAPER.

Subject to this Law, an elector shall record his vote on his ballot-paper by placing the numeral “1” in the square opposite the name of the candidate for whom he votes as his first preference, and shall give contingent votes for all the remaining candidates by placing the numerals “2”, “3”, “4” (and so on, as the case requires) in the squares opposite their respective names so as to indicate the order of his preference for them.”

REPEAL AND REPLACEMENT OF SECTION 154.

Section 154 of the Principal Law is repealed and is replaced by the following:—

154. INFORMAL BALLOT-PAPERS.

(1) Subject to this section, and to the provisions of Divisions 3 and 4 and the Regulations, a ballot-paper is informal if—

- (a) it is not authenticated by the initials of the presiding officer or by an official mark as prescribed; or
- (b) subject to Subsections (2), (3) and (4), it has no vote indicated on it, or it does not indicate the voter's first preference for one candidate and his contingent votes for all the other candidates; or
- (c) it has on it any mark or writing (not authorized by the Law to be put on it) by which, in the opinion of the officer conducting the scrutiny, the voter can be identified.

“(2) Where the voter has indicated his first preference for one candidate and his contingent votes for all the remaining candidates except one and the square opposite the name of that candidate has been left blank, the voter's preference for that candidate shall be deemed to be his last and accordingly he shall be deemed to have indicated the order of his preference for all the candidates.

“(3) Where there are two candidates only and the voter has indicated his vote by placing the numeral “1” in the square opposite the name of one candidate and has left the other square blank, the voter shall be deemed to have indicated the order of his preference for all candidates.

“(4) Where the voter has clearly shown—

- (a) his first preference; or
- (b) a consecutive order of preferences for some candidates, but has not shown a consecutive order of preferences for all other candidates, the ballot-paper shall not be informal but effect shall be given to it according to the voter's intention in so far as that intention is clear and can be given effect to.

“(5) Subsection (1) (a) does not apply to a mark or writing placed on a ballot-paper by an officer, notwithstanding that the placing of the mark or writing on the ballot-paper is a contravention of this Law.

“(6) Subject to Divisions 3 and 4, a ballot-paper shall not be informal for any reason other than a reason specified in this section.”

5. SCRUTINY OF ORDINARY VOTES IN ELECTION (AMENDMENT OF SECTION 155).

Section 155(2) of the Principal Law is amended—

- (c) in Paragraph (d) by repealing “votes” and substituting “first preference votes”; and
- (d) in Paragraph (f) (i) by repealing “votes” and substituting “first preference votes”.

REPEAL AND REPLACEMENT OF SECTION 169.

Section 169 of the Principal Law is repealed and is replaced by the following:—

169. SCRUTINY OF VOTES IN ELECTION.

(1) The result of an election shall be determined by scrutiny in the following manner:—

- (a) the Returning Officer shall ascertain the total number of first preference votes given for each candidate;
- (b) the candidate who has received the largest number of first preference votes shall, if that number constitutes an absolute majority of votes, be elected;
- (c) if no candidate has received an absolute majority of votes, a second count shall be made;
- (d) on the second count the sealed parcels of ballot-papers shall be opened by the Returning Officer, the candidate who has received the fewest number of first preference votes shall be excluded and each ballot-paper counted to him shall be counted to the candidate next in the order of the voter's preference;
- (e) if a candidate then has an absolute majority of votes he shall be deemed to be elected, but if no candidate then has an absolute majority of votes the process of excluding the candidate who has the fewest votes and counting each of his ballot-papers to the unexcluded candidate next in order of the voter's preference shall be repeated until one candidate has received an absolute majority of votes;
- (f) the candidate who has received an absolute majority of the votes is elected;
- (g) if, on any count, two or more candidates have an equal number of votes and one of them has to be excluded, the Returning Officer shall decide, by drawing lots, which shall be excluded, and if, in the final count, two candidates have an equal number of votes, the Returning Officer shall decide, by drawing lots, which shall be elected.

Proposed Law to Alter the Organic Law on National Elections—continued

"(2) Where on any count being conducted in accordance with Subsection (1)(d) or (e), a ballot-paper referred to in Section 154(4) shows no preference capable, in accordance with this Law, of being counted, in that count, to an unexcluded candidate, that ballot-paper—

- (a) shall be deemed to be exhausted; and
(b) shall be excluded from that count and any subsequent count; and
(c) shall not be taken into account in the calculation of an absolute majority in relation to that count and any subsequent count.

"(3) The procedure for drawing lots is as follows:—

- (a) the Returning Officer shall immediately after the conclusion of the counting and before all persons present, make out in respect of each of the candidates having an equal number of votes a slip bearing the name of the candidate as shown on the ballot-paper, enclose the respective slips in separate blank envelopes of exact similarity and deposit the envelopes in a locked ballot-box; and
(b) the Returning Officer shall then thoroughly shake and rotate the ballot-box and shall permit any other person present, if he so desires, to do the same; and
(c) the ballot-box shall then be opened and an officer shall take out and open one of the envelopes; and
(d) the candidate whose name appears on the slip enclosed in the envelope taken from the ballot-box is elected.

"(4) In this section, "an absolute majority of votes" in relation to any count, means a greater number than one-half of the whole number of ballot-papers (other than informal ballot-papers and ballot-papers excluded from that count under Subsection (2))."
